

ANIMATION NOW! As I browsed through the pages of this huge book, I felt envious of those talented artists and animators, of their wild and vivid imagination and their ability to create worlds and shape characters. I was floating over unknown wonderlands, becoming a part of beautiful stories, meeting new “friends”.

Though you can't see the “motion” involved, you're definitely immersed in it. Taschen Publications present a book that is a tribute to the art of animation. Aida Queiroz, Cesar Coelho, Lea Zagury and Marcos Magalhaes, directors of Anima Mundi - the International Animation Film Festival of Brazil - have recorded in its pages the past of animation and its promising future, as it forces its way into cinema, television, e-business and the fine arts in general, into the minds and senses of a demanding and jubilant public.
