

TNT RECOMMENDS

Erotic Cinema
Edited by Douglas Keeseey and Paul Duncan
 (Taschen Books) 3247
Published: Out now

While things have become far racier on the big screen since the first ever kiss was recorded on film in 1896, celluloid sex still has the power to make audiences blush and

America's bible belt foam at the mouth. Erotic Cinema is the final word on movie sex from Betty Blythe's daring sheer pearl dress in The Queen Of Sheba to the famous hole-in-the-wall scene out of Porky's and a knicker-less Sharon Stone in Basic Instinct. Exploring different forms of sexual behaviour in film through insightful text and titillating images, there is plenty to enjoy between the covers.

— PIERRE DE VILLIERS