DAVID LACHAPELLE: ARTISTS & PROSTITUTES

Ever since David LaChapelle graduated high school and got his very first artistic commission from Andy Warhol himself, his career has been a non-stop photographic fantasy of celebrities, glamorous filth, and some of the most moving images in photography. His newest book venture, 'Artists and Prostitutes,' from Taschen, is a celebration of his many subjects, from Tupac to Leo DiCaprio to Britney Spears to Mohammad Ali in a 668-page, oversized, powerfully colourful tome.
