

TNT RECOMMENDS

Roman Polanski
Edited by Paul Duncan
 (Taschen Books)

Published: Out now

With films like Rosemary's Baby, Chinatown and The Pianist on his CV, director Roman Polanski has already left an indelible mark on the silver screen. Inevitably, though, his talent and vision has been undermined by a decision to flee the US rather than serve time for statutory rape. Such has been the fall out from Polanski's actions, many film-goers know little more about the man than his troubled private life. Combining insightful writing and beautiful images, this magnificent retrospective addresses the balance, slicing through the cocoon of controversy that surrounds the director to reveal a remarkable filmmaker.