

Domus reprised

Selected highlights of Domus, the seminal architecture and design journal (1928-1999), are now available as a 12-volume set. Publishing house Taschen has reproduced the pages as they originally appeared, with each volume accompanied by introductory texts written by the magazine's renowned past editors. Known for identifying the style of a particular age, from Art Deco and Postwar to Pop Art and Postmodernism, the Domus series is a must-have for all architecture and design enthusiasts. (Taschen, £350 for the 12-volume set)
