Around the World

In the late 1800s, long before pictures of exotic places became available in books or on the Internet, pioneering photographer Burton Holmes spanned the globe, documenting his journeys in perfectly composed photographs that he later colorized by hand. Dramatic slideshows of his work would sell out auditoriums at the time, and now Taschen has collected his imagery in a new volume, Burton Holmes Travelogues ($49), with hauntingly beautiful shots of 1900-1901 Paris, Los Angeles, Peking...and everywhere in between.
