

HEAVEN TO HELL

by David LaChapelle

Large and in charge in a hardcover box designed to contain its fire, the third installment in David LaChapelle's notorious trilogy that began with LaChapelle Land and Hotel LaChapelle features more than twice as many of his color-saturated, fantastically surreal portraits of celebrity, fashion and pop culture that have made gays—and most of the art world—drool for years. Drawing inspiration from the Bible, the Renaissance, globalization, cinema and of course his muse Amanda Lepore, LaChapelle gives new meaning to baroque style with photographs that defy the ordinary. While Paris Hilton in pink Technicolor bondage and Kanye West channeling Jesus might provoke some, Angelina Jolie making out with a horse is pure genius.
