

I'll Be Watching You:
Inside The Police, 1980-83

WRITTEN BY Andy Summers

This is what Andy Summers was thinking when The Police toured the globe in the early '80s. Summers, who is the band's guitarist (and photographer), bares his soul in this poetic photo diary that captures revealing moments with fellow band members Sting and Stewart Copeland. Summers muses on the isolation of life as a rock star. The photos seem akin to an escape from the guitarist's all-encompassing day job.
