New York-based photographer Richard Kern's life behind the lens appears – at first glance – to be an urbane perv's voyeuristic paradise...

However, look closer and you'll see that this is not your average, common-or-garden smut. Revealed here in all their natural glory, Kern's girls are neither helpless victims of the male gaze nor airbrushed, silicone-pumped 'stars'. They enjoy sharing their secrets with us. They return our stares – and we love them for it.

Action, the former underground filmmaker's latest 300-page tome, comes with an hour-long video DVD with a soundtrack by Sonic Youth's Thurston Moore. Kern remains the eternal horny teen who realises that girls are happy to take their clothes off in front of a boy if there's a camera involved. Jammy git.
