

Movies of the 60s

Author Jurgen Muller Publisher
Taschen Price £24.99 p/b

With its Bond extravaganzas, musical blockbusters, action epics and glossy thrillers, the Sixties was a classic era of movie-making, and Taschen's latest decade overview chronicles everything that made the period great.

All the classics are here, examined in mouth-watering detail, among them such era-defining productions as Breakfast at Tiffany's, Lawrence of Arabia, The Sound of Music, Goldfinger and Blow-Up. In fact the list is pretty much endless, with each title accompanied by some of the lushest stills you'll ever feast your eyes on. A truly stunning book, this is the browsing experience par excellence. You really won't be able to put it down.

★★★★★