

SHOW US YOUR ART!

When it comes to works of art, top-notch erotic snapper Roy Stuart knows a thing or two about uncovering a beauty...

Whichever way man looks at it, erotic photo don Roy Stuart has got a pretty sweet job. His CV might read: "Travel the world successfully persuading mostly women to peel off for and perform all sorts of lewd acts for fellas to pore over." Well, it beats 12 hours injecting jelly at the pork pie factory, dunnit?

Stuart's work appears in luxurious, coffee table books from the boys at Taschen, the undisputed heavyweight champs of erotica.

Mr Stuart appears to have a soft spot for ladies flashing their panties in public, voyeurism, peek-a-boo knickers and same-sex petting. Well, don't we all? Other inspirations for this photographic legend include the full female bush and a spot of underarm hair. What's that all about, sir?

"The mainstream erotic formula is out of date," he says. "Nature programmed us to be attracted to people of our own design - not some art director's or photographer's notion of what's appealing."

So now you've been told. Next step is to go forth and enjoy Roy's work, dear readers. ■ loaded
