F eet: we use them to kick footballs with, cover them with lovely pairs of trainers, while the odd Tory MP and Royal family member has been known to indulge in the old 'toe-job'. Meanwhile, glamour snapper Ed Fox likes women's plates so much, he's filled a book with them.

"The most tempting part of a woman's body is her feet," he says. "Feet are a woman's second body, the one I can visually enjoy without her being offended or even aware. A beautiful foot is an extra, the same as shapely breasts or a nice ass - it's about voluptuousness." Say no more, Foxy - wouldn't want to put our foot in it!

Ed Fox: Glamour from the Ground Up is published by TASCHEN, priced £24.99 (hardback with DVD) and is available from all good bookshops or at www.taschen.com
