By Ian Phillips. Edited by Angelika Taschen

Consider this book your invitation into the most gorgeous apartments in Paris. Bursting with innovative ideas, bold style and vivid color palettes, the residences featured here truly define modern living at its best. Would you expect anything less from shoemaker Christian Louboutin's sun-filled yellow breakfast room, or aristocrats and Sisley Cosmetics owners Comte and Comtesse d'Ornano's treasure trove-like grand salon? The photos are so intimate that you'll wonder if you should stay for dinner.
