

Eye of the tiger: China: Portrait of a Country, edited by Liu Heung Shing and published by Taschen, is a photographic history of 60 years of the People's Republic, examining the fledgling superpower through the eyes of 76 Chinese photographers. Liu Heung Shing is a former photojournalist and worked in China, where, among other things he documented the 1989 turmoil in Tiananmen Square, as well as the US, India and the former Soviet Union over a 20-year period. The book is released on 21st July priced at £29.99.