

CHINA Edited by Lui Heung Shing Taschen, £29.99

PULITZER-WINNING photojournalist Lui Heung Shing maps the history of China from 1949 with a vast range of pictures from the nation's photographers. Unveiling China's path from the borderline to a central position in world affairs, the images depict changes of the past 60 years.

Featuring a map of the country and a chronological listing of all the major political happenings in the country, this book is a visual voyage through the People's Republic of China. As attention focuses on Beijing because of this year's Olympics starting on August 8, this book gives a revealing insight into an extraordinary country.
