

New Paris Interiors
Edited by Angelika Taschen
(Taschen, $75)

Imagine if you had lots of money and lived in Paris. You might live in a home exactly like one of these featured in this glorious coffee-table book, a homage to interiors in the world's most romantic city.

Filling the pages are lavish images of covetable rooms furnished in styles spanning traditional to modern.

Many of the city's interesting personalities opened their doors for the book, including shoemaker Christian Louboutin and fashion designer Rick Owens.

The copy is in three languages: English, French and German.

There is only a brief amount of text on each home. The emphasis, pleasingly, is on images.

Jump on the couch, put on your Edith Piaf CD, and enjoy.
