NEW PARIS INTERIORS

Text by Ian Phillips, edited by Angelika Taschen, Taschen, hardback, £24.99

This is a large, glamorous book showing the incredibly chic Parisian apartments of celebrated French artists, art collectors, designers and antique dealers. No cheap furnishings or flat-pack wardrobes here!

Amazing chandeliers, paintings, sculptures, chairs, tables, beds and all sorts of ornaments populate these high-ceilinged apartments and the photography does them justice. Angelika Taschen published the first Paris Interiors 15 years ago and interior designers from all over the world wrote to thank her for the inspiration. This new book is a natural sequel, reflecting how Paris has changed in 15 years thanks to a new generation of designers, artists and architects. The text appears in English, French and German, so you can even improve your language skills while admiring the pictures and dreaming of living in such magical places.
