New New York Interiors
Edited by Angelika Taschen
(Taschen, $90)

From the outrageous and extravagant, to the eclectic and sophisticated, this book captures the changing face of New Yorkers, ten years after Taschen's original New York Interiors was published. The richly artistic city has long attracted an array of designers, artists and collectors, and here the author offers a sneak peek into their homes. Visit the modernist loft of actress Julianne Moore, lose yourself in the grandeur of couturier Mary McFadden's Upper East Side apartment, and delight in the eccentricity of designer Cary Leibowitz's Harlem townhouse. With a brief introduction about each home, this picture-oriented book allows you to soak up every detail of these lavish interiors, while dreaming of life in New York, New York.
