

MOUTH-WATERING ARCHITECTURE

Restaurants and Bars

Phillip Jodidio

All around the world restaurants and bars are stepping up their architectural game, and the newest edition of Architecture Now! features the most lavish and luxe of interior design to date. With breathtaking images of spaces all over the world, including a food joint in Bangkok that sits atop a skyscraper, as well as an array of decidedly smaller establishments done up in modern décor, this book is sure to whet the appetite for creativity and have readers craving a new kind of dining experience.
