HEAVY METAL TABLE

BY SVETOSLAV PETROV

Most people say Taschen makes the most exquisite books on the planet and who are we to argue? Their latest proposition comes as a compliment to Norman Mailer's MoonFire: The Epic Journey of Apollo 11 – an ultra exclusive designer table by Marc Newson, for your eyes only.

To commemorate the 40th anniversary of the Apollo 11 Moon landing, Taschen paired Norman Mailer's text with spectacular photography from the archives of NASA, LIFE magazine, and many other sources, thus creating a unique tribute to the defining scientific mission of our time. The book is limited to 1969 copies in two editions. Each copy includes a Plexiglas-framed, ready-to-hang, archival-quality, numbered photographic print, produced using the revolutionary new Skia printing technique, and signed by Buzz Aldrin. This hardcover title comes in XXL format and deserves a nice place to rest. The Lunar Rock Edition is designed by Marc Newson. Each copy comes with a specimen of lunar rock covered in plastic sphere. The fantastic table for the limited edition book is made from a single piece of aluminium and weights 22 kilograms. It's no wonder that it resembles a lunar model like the one you've seen in the movies, just transformed in a comfortable table where you can store MoonFire: The Epic Journey of Apollo 11. There are only 12 of them, so you'd better hurry.
