

Perhaps the publisher's most luscious and comprehensive A-to-Z collection yet, 100 Contemporary Fashion Designers (Taschen, $59.99), is a must-have for anyone interested in the world of fashion at the start of the 21st century. Edited by i-D magazine creator Terry Jones, the two-volume set provides both explanatory text and fabulous imagery, with each designer section listed alphabetically. All the industry giants are included here — Giorgio Armani, Ralph Lauren, Dolce & Gabbana, Jean Paul Gaultier and so on — but there are also all the new hotshots (e.g. Adam Kimmel, Christopher Bailey, Neil Barrett, Olivier Theyskens, Matthew Williamson, and many more), making it an indispensable guide for any fashion lover or aspiring connoisseur.
