

Dear Diary ...

A throwback to your days of jotting down each and every conversation, emotion, thought and (of course) crush, this a journal for busy women with a sense of humor. If, in between your child's doctor visits and therapy sessions, you don't have the time to put your heart into a novel, Keel's Simple Diary helps you easily document your day's adventures.

The diary ($15; www.simplediary.com), a small leather-bound journal that fits easily in a handbag, assumes you're short on time. Simply flip to where you left off, write down the date and answer a series of tongue-in-cheek questions that are sure to make you smile and offer insight into your current state of mind.

In addition to the series of three to four questions on each entry page, a quote or daily fortune is included to bring a smile to your face.
