

My rare lady..

UNSEEN PHOTOS OF MOVIE BEAUTY AUDREY HEPBURN

EXCLUSIVE

BY ALUN PALMER
 alun.palmer@mirror.co.uk

SHE was the actress who epitomised style and grace on the big screen.

Even now, 17 years after her death, My Fair Lady star Audrey Hepburn is still revered as a fashion icon. And, in a new book, a set of previously unseen shots of her by veteran Hollywood photographer Bob Willoughby are revealed.

Willoughby, who died last year aged 82, said of their first meeting: "She took my hand like, well, a princess, and dazzled me with that smile that God designed to melt mortal men's hearts."

▶ A LIMITED edition of Bob Willoughby, Audrey Hepburn. Photographs 1953-1966 is published by TASCHEN and costs £450. Available at www.taschen.com.

◀ STYLE
 With script on the set of My Fair Lady, 1963. left. With Ip in supermarket in Beverly Hills, right.

▶ LAUGHS
 With Bob Willoughby, right, and with her son Sean and James Garner, far right

▶ MUM'S THE WORD With her son Sean and Bob Willoughby's wife Dorothy and their son Christopher in LA in 1961. above. On the set of Paris When It Sizzles, in Paris, 1962. left. Relaxing in the garden of the villa she rented while making Paris When It Sizzles, below.

▼ CARER
 With her pet deer Ip in 1958

▶ A GREEN GODDESS On set of Paris When It Sizzles in 1962