

PARTY PEOPLE

The i-Deal party!

Any party that lures pop's princess Kylie Minogue out to play is going to have that extra sparkling something, and the i-D 30th anniversary celebration was no exception. Patsy Kensit even fell to one knee and kissed Kylie's hand! To coincide with the launch of Taschen's i-D Covers book, fashion's finest including Tom Ford, Julia Restoin-Roitfeld and Alice Dellal gathered to swap stories of cover shoots over cocktails. We overheard Roland Mouret gossiping with '80s legends Marc Almond and Holly Johnson about The X Factor.

What we ate: antipasti and biscotti from The Last Supper.
What we drank: Toscani red wine, Chase vodka cocktails, lemongrass and thyme caipiroskas and passion-fruit martinis.

What we listened to: Matthew Stone, resident DJ for Gareth Pugh.

Five minutes with

Kylie Minogue

Q: So when was your first i-D cover?
A: Gosh, a long time ago! I did my first shoot with i-D in 1990.
Q: How did you feel about it?
A: It was a pretty bold manoeuvre to choose me – I was just this little pop gal. And for me, i-D was so cool and edgy.
Q: You look fabulous – what are you wearing?
A: Why thank you. It's Marios Schwab and YSL shoes.
