

PRETTY MUCH EVERYTHING

Longtime photographic partners in crime, Inez van Lamsweerde and Vinoodh Matadin, have collaborated to create Pretty Much Everything, a book documenting their careers in art and fashion. Containing 976 pages of images that play with the concept of escaping any form of civilisation, consumerism and stability, contributing authors include Penny Martin, Michael Bracewell, Olivier Zahm, Bruce Sterling and Antony Hegarty. Would you prefer to run naked through a cornfield or pose in a suit with a breast hanging out? Those are the kinds of questions that the duo decide to answer to.
