

INTERSECTION MAGAZINE: "CARS NOW"

I've said this many times before, but Intersection Magazine is by far my favourite magazine in publication.....and has been for the past 3 years as a subscriber. It's the only magazine I get truly excited about when I see a new issue. They are entertaining, creative, beautifully photographed, and well made.

I was happy to see in the latest issue that they have released a book entitled "Cars Now: A Guide To The Most Notable Cars Today"; so I instantly ordered it for $40 and I was pleased to find that it certainly did not dissappoint. The purpose of this book is to document international automotive brands on sale worldwide at the moment; big and small. It's great to see beautiful photos of the larger marques and their current cars, but also see and read full presentations about the not-so-well-known marques. A great book for my collection, and will sit very nicely alongside my Intersection magazine collection.

512 pages, $39.99, available to order from Taschen
