"Marilyn was a photographer's dream subject with her clothes on and even more stunning with them off. She was a week away from her thirty-sixth birthday, and she looked as good as she had ever looked."
Lawrence Schiller

It's 50 years this month since screen goddess Marilyn Monroe passed away and her final movie moments – in the uncompleted Something's Got To Give – are documented in photographer Lawrence Schiller's new book.

The unfinished film is also famous for a naked scene, which Lawrence captured in some beautiful detail. It seems somewhat fitting that she's gracing our pages with not very much covering her modesty... ■

Marilyn and Me: A Memoir in Words and Photographs by Lawrence Schiller is out now
